

Euclid Creek Reservation

Euclid Creek Reservation:

Euclid Creek Reservation is named for Euclid Creek which runs the length of the reservation. The northern portion of the reservation is part of the Lakefront parks where there is a large diversity of birds year round.

The southern portion of the reservation is the site of a “ghost town.” The village of Bluestone flourished in the late 1800s and early 1900s when its populace quarried the blue-gray siltstone for use in building sidewalks and other construction. Today, the remaining exposure of bluestone is in Quarry Picnic Area.
